

Jennifer Tryder

Program Director

Jennifer Tryder is the Vice President of Audit and Grant Programs at IntegrityM. In her role, Ms. Tryder is responsible for the direct oversight of the company's audit and grant contracts across several government agencies including; the Centers for Medicare and Medicaid Services (CMS), The Health Resources & Services Administration (HRSA), The National Science Foundation (NSF), as well as two commercial healthcare contracts.

Ms. Tryder brings over 20 years of experience managing contracts for government healthcare programs, which includes providing operational and financial oversight, and program and quality management. Her strengths include project management, healthcare policy analysis, subject matter expertise, government healthcare audits and grants, corrective action, remediation, and training. The majority of her work experience has supported CMS' program integrity initiatives and contracts, spanning across multi-specialty provider settings and within industry recognized healthcare consulting firms. She holds substantial background in various business applications, projects, and workforce settings and has a demonstrated ability to manage multiple concurrent projects and activities while maintaining proper focus on major strategic initiatives. She has a proven track record of building long-standing relationships with clients, subcontractors, and project stakeholders.

Ms. Tryder received a Bachelor of Science in Health Information Management from Northeastern University. She holds AHIMA RHIA (Registered Health Information Administrator) and HCCA CHC (Certified in Health Care Compliance) certifications.